

Nottinghamshire Police and Crime Commissioner change of contact details

18 February 2014

Change of address

The Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner is to relocate later this month to new premises in Gedling.

The move from County Hall, West Bridgford, will take place on February 24 at which point I will be based at premises owned by Gedling Borough Council. The new offices will be located on the first floor of Arnot Hill House, Arnold – a detached building in the grounds of Arnot Hill Park, next to the council's main Civic Centre.

The building is well-designed to stage large meetings, making it more convenient for my staff and our partners to arrange conference events. The lease, which will run until 2023, entitles me to use meeting room facilities and the council chambers by prior arrangement and is one small step in my overall plan to ensure the buildings we utilise are fit for purpose.

As always, your views and opinions are the foundation of my work and I hope that you will continue to write to me in my new base. The full address of the new office is:
